On behalf of the Organizing Committee of ASINCO (The Asian Society for Integrity of Nuclear Components), we invited you to participate in the 9th International Workshop on the Integrity of Nuclear Components to be held in Kaohsiung City of South Taiwan from April 18th to 20th, 2012.

The series of International Workshop began in Taejeon (Korea) in 1996, and was followed bi-annually in Tokyo (Japan) 1998, Taoyuan (Taiwan) 2000, Cheju Island (Korea) 2002, Kyoto (Japan) 2004, Kenting (Taiwan) 2006, Muju (Korea) 2008, Awaji (Japan) 2010.

Right now the developments of nuclear energy faces the severe tough times after Fukushima accidents. New nuclear safety concepts of nuclear components must be re-considered comprehensively. The subject of this workshop will be the considerations of the promotions on the structural integrity of nuclear components for severe seismic and tsunami accidents. The scope will be cover various issues in computational mechanics, fatigue and fracture mechanics, risk and PSA management, seismic and tsunami design consideration, code and standards, and license renewal, etc.. Participation, however, will be open to public, including experts of regulatory bodies, utilities, research institutes academy, and vendors. We wish to recommend you to take this opportunity to exchange ideas, discuss new technologies and share knowledge critical to the future of the international nuclear industry.
